Spring Cleaning Tips for Including

the Kids

The weather's getting warmer, birds are chirping, flowers are blooming - and you're likely holding a mile-long spring-cleaning list. Spring cleaning holds many benefits. If you or anyone in your family suffers from allergies, ridding the house of lingering dust, mold and pollen can bring some relief. Spring cleaning reduces the bacteria you live with, resulting in a healthier environment. Plus, after a season of family gatherings, indoor activities, holiday gifts and school projects, you're probably craving a little fresher air and open space inside your home.

Here are some inspiring ideas for cleaning with kids:

- *Let them choose their chores.
- *Divide & Conquer
- *Tackle one room at a Time
- *Inspire Kindness-donate toys and things to others
- *Play upbeat music to motivate
- *Award & Celebrate when completed

April your child will be growing a garden.

Gardening with children provides them with skills to help child development. Young children practice locomotor skills, body management skills and object control skills in the garden.

GROW IT Container Gardening Not everyone has the space to plant an elaborate garden. That's okay! You can still have a garden with a container garden. Tires, buckets, large planting pots, or even tubs can all be used as your container. Hanging baskets are great for fruits like strawberries, cherry tomatoes, and herbs. Plastic containers will hold in moisture better than a clay or wood container. Fill the container with gardening soil and begin planting. Remember to check plants daily for watering needs and support your fast growing, tall plants with trellises and stakes. Plant ideas for container gardens: Beans Broccoli Carrots Cucumbers Eggplants Lettuce Onions Peppers Radishes Tomatoes
